A Good Company

“He who walks with wise men will be wise, but the companion of fools will suffer harm.”

The company of the people you keep is a double edged sword.... it has both; the power to create you and the power to destroy you. The company of people we surround ourselves with, has a tremendous bearing on the way we think, the way we feel, the way we look at others, the way we look at ourselves, our present and the future we will create. True, there are people who have emerged 'in spite' of their surroundings...we aren't discussing exceptions; the majority of human minds are shaped by their environment... 'because' of their surroundings.

Your today is not simply shaped by your yesterday; your today is in many ways shaped by the people with whom you spent your yesterday. Your tomorrow will be shaped by the people you give your today to.
